

Losing It

Danni Nicholls, Jess Morgan

I've been telling myself a bedtime story
I've been selling myself way too cheap
I've been killing myself
I've been spilling my drinks

I've been going around with no one special
And all I've found is the end of the day
I've been goin' along like everything's okay

I need to find a way back to this heart of mine
I've gotta change the ending just one time
Oh I had so much love to give
And I've been losing it

If you lose yourself if you lose your patience
You'll be looking til the world wakes up
And you wont hold her in your arms
Until you're brave enough

I need to find a way back to this heart of mine
I've gotta change the ending just one time
Oh I had so much love to give
And I've been losing it
