

Beautiful Game - Lyrics

Like a runaway train you crashed right in Smashed through the walls into my skin
And there's pieces of you stuck deep inside
That I can't get out though I've tried and I've tried

When I hear your name
Takes me right back there again
You're just a piece of a star that landed in my world
And I was a player in your beautiful game

Yes I was a fool just a pawn to your king
You took my castle hell you took everything
Now you're dancing in the desert with wolves and pretty girls
Blinding their eyes with sequins and curls

When I hear your name
Takes me right back there again
You're just a piece of a star that landed in my world
And I was a player in your beautiful game

Oh its not right
Oh its not right
You don't say what you mean you don't mean

What you say like when you say oh baby it's true
There's nobody else no one like you
But there's a girl like me in every town
Gets sucked in and spat right out

When I hear your name
Takes me right back there again
You're just a piece of a star that landed in my world
And I was a player in your beautiful...
Oh when I hear your name
Takes me right back there again
You're just a piece of a star that landed in my world
And I was a player in your beautiful game
I was a player in your beautiful game
