

Leaving Tennessee

Written by Danni Nicholls

The sun's going down behind the hills of Tennessee
I'm Georgia bound, got a one way ticket cheap
On the run from my broken heart
If I just keep moving the tears will never start

I know in time you're gonna fade from me
Like the light slipping down as I'm leaving Tennessee

Sorcerer your magic lingers on
All the miles I put between us yet still you do me wrong
The spirit of our love's a constant shadow by my side
I can run run run run oh but I can't hide

You're an empty boat just drifting out to sea
Soon you'll be gone entirely
And the light is fading now as I'm leaving Tennessee

The sun's going down behind the hills the sky's aflame
And for one sweet moment I feel no pain

I know the love you have for me runs deep
But more than love you wanted to be free
And in time you're gonna fade from me
Like the light slipping down as I'm leaving Tennessee
Leaving Tennessee

The sun's going down
